BOLSHEVIKI WARSHIPS SHELLED ENZELI

Surrender of Port Demanded Owing to Presence There of Denekine's Warships and Troops—Advance on Teheran Not Expected.

London, May 21.—Thirteen Bolshevikl warships appeared off Enzeli and began to bombard the town on the morning of May 19, says a Teheran dispatch of that date to the London Times. A "parliamentaire," who went in an open boat to inquire their object, was fired upon, his white flag possibly escaping notice.

A deputation in behalf of the Persian government, including a British officer, proceeded in a larger launch to board the Bolsheviki flagship. The deputation was informed that the Bolsheviki demanded the surrender of the port owing to the presence there of Denekine's warships and troops. If it surrendered the Bolsheviki fleet had no further hostile intentions against the Persian government or the British garrison at Enzeli, and was ready to give immunity to the interned Russian volunteers. The future of the port at Enzeli, it is stated, would be discussed between the Moscow Soviet and the British government.

"I understand," says the Times correspondent, "that a reply is being sent to the effect that Persia is interning and disarming Denikine's fleet and troops, carried out in the strictest manner her obligations of neutrality, and protests against a gratuitous attack. Nevertheless, if the Bolsheviki commander still contemplates danger from the interned ships, the Persian government is prepared to discuss the matter amicably and to take such measures as are necessary to remove apprehension, the armistice being respected, pending the discussion.

"Private reports from Baku describe several measures of repression there. It is said that an attempt to displace the Soviet government would be punished by hanging or imprisonment of those implicated. Admiral Sergieff, lately commanding Denekine's Caspian fleet, and other leading Russians have been hanged."

GRAVITY OF SITNATION MINIMIZED

London, May 20.—In official circles today there was an inclination to minimize the immediate gravity of the Near Eastern situation due to the invasion of Persia by the Bolsheviki, but there was undisguised apprehension lest a continuation of the Bolsheviki successes in that region might prove that the activities of the Bolsheviki propagandists, known to be operating there for some months, had been more effective than was expected.

The Bolshevik forces landed at Enzeli are believed in official quarters not to exceed 10,000, which fact, it was considered, seemed to make any immediate extension of the operations contingent on the accumulation of large numbers of recruits from the pro-Bolsheviki elements in the Trans-Caucasian republics.

For this reason war office experts deemed it to be unlikely that any advance toward Teheran would be attempted, as the Persian capital is more than 150 miles distant from Enzeli.

It was stated that the British troops which would be available for any operations against the Enzeli Bolsheviki forces consisted of a few thousand men now distributed among small and widely separated garrisons. The terms of the Anglo-Persian agreement, the office this informant said, probably would lead the Persian government to consult with the British government before determining the policy to pursue with reference to the new aggression.

FEAR SHORT CROP OF HAY IN CANADA.

Ottawa, May 20.—Present conditions indicate a short hay crop throughout Canada, excepting in Northern Alberta and Northern Saskatchewan. Information received, however, from representatives of the live stock trade and officials of the various provincial departments of agriculture, indicates that unless an unusually poor growing season is experienced, with lack of moisture in the eastern provinces and a lack of heat in the western provinces, there should be a sufficient supply of summer feed and pasturage and roughage for next winter's stock feeding requirements.

To offset the anticipated short hay crop, there will be considerably more corn sown in this district this spring, unless in the near future rains are experienced to help hay and pasture lands. In Western Canada a good deal of attention will, under any circumstances, be given to the growing of soiling crops and crops for ensilage.

Following is the programme:

Pas Des Amphoris Chaminade—Dora Boderman.

O Cruel Fortune (Ernani) Verde—Mr. R. Taylor.

RED DEER FAIR JULY 10, 12, 13, 14

Directors Whipping Things Into Order for a Great Show This Year.

The directors of the Red Deer Agricultural Society met in the secretary's office on Saturday evening last.

Those present were President McKinnon, 1st Vice-President E. W. Bjorkeland, Directors Day, Stone, Gamble, Cole, McPherson, Botterill, Hogg, D. S. Smith, Mesdames Stone and Bjorkeland.

The committee appointed to interview the several Municipal District Councils were unable to report except the committee which waited upon the Council of the M. D. of Pine Lake. They had been promised a grant approximating $210.00. As the President would be unable to wait upon the Council of M.D. of Golden West, it was agreed that C. C. Gamble be appointed to take the President's place and visit this Council on Saturday next.

The committee re. the C.N.R. stock yards reported that they had been advised by the City Commissioners that nothing was likely to happen this year, and that as soon as they knew definitely as to the intentions of the railway in this matter, the President would be advised.

The committee re. poultry building enlargement did not report.

The secretary had procured styles of ribbons from the Advertising Novelty Co., Edmonton, the firm which supplied Calgary and Edmonton Fairs. Prices ranged from 30 cents to 12 cents for each ribbon.

It was decided to purchase the best class of ribbon, costing 30 cents each, and was referred to finance committee to act.

John Ross was present, and proposed to the directors that plans be arranged whereby he might stage a driving contest for Chevrolet automobiles in front of the grand stand; that he and the Chevrolet Co. would offer cash prizes amounting to $160.

On motion of Mr. Day and Mr. Hogg, the matter was referred to the race committee with power to act.

The same privileges will be granted agricultural and provincial publications as are granted at Calgary and Edmonton.

A letter was read from Thos. Bellew, secretary of the Alberta Hereford Breeders' Association, advising of grant for 1920 Fair amounting to $55, provided the Society put up the sum of $25.

The McCall Aero Corporation, Limited, Calgary, offered to visit the Fair and give stunt flying for $50 per performance and carry passengers for $10 per person.

A cheque for $3,150.00 was received from Department of Agriculture, Edmonton, for grant earned in 1919.

The soldiers' memorial committee asked for representative from Agricultural Society, and E. W. Bjorkeland was appointed.

Letters from other "B" circuit Fairs respecting aerial attractions were referred to attraction committee.

The secretary advised that no action had been taken at last meeting respecting the Society's football trophy, which had not been competed for in 1919. The city football league had made a request through Chief Anderson that this trophy be put up for competition among the teams forming the city league.

Messrs. Botterill and Hogg moved that the Society's football trophy be offered for competition between the teams forming the city football league for the year 1920, same to be returned to the Society on June 1, 1921. Carried.

Meeting adjourned.

ROCKY MOUNT'N HOUSE

Reeve Kirby, of Rocky Mountain House, has issued the following to the citizens of that town:

Dear Citizen,—

Joyful spring! It's here—and with it comes our responsibilities and obligations as progressive, enterprising and loyal citizens.

In the very near future there will be new station building erected, the main street and many of the other streets of the village will be improved; a municipal scale will be established with suitable building; two small buildings for the accommodation of farmers, their families, and others temporarily visiting the village, will be built by the village; several new residences are contemplated and no doubt will be constructed; the Imperial Bank of Canada will build an office building with staff quarters; the Hotel Mount View will be enlarged; and many other improvements will be made within the village almost at once.

In view of all this, to keep ahead of the tide, to develop a community spirit, to improve the general appearance of our village, and to demonstrate our enterprise as good citizens, we appeal to you to assist in the general improvement by cleaning up in and around your premises, painting our buildings, planting trees and flowers, and making an honest effort to improve our appearance as a village to the end that our progress and enterprise will be favorably commented upon by any and all visitors to the village—our home.

Paint and utensils may be had at cost, delivered, on application for a requisition to the clerk of the village.

MANAGER OF LACOMBE BANK IS REMANDED

Last week, W. F. Graham, manager of the Union Bank, Lacombe, was arrested by detective Scott of the A.P.P. and brought before Inspector Fisher, J.P., and remanded to Edmonton for trial, being short some $25,000 in his accounts. Mr. Graham was one of the most popular bank managers in the west, and had a host of friends who will regret his misfortune. It is thought the shortage will be made good. Mrs. Graham left for the east with her children the night the arrest was made.

W. F. Graham, manager of the Lacombe, Alta., branch of the Union Bank of Canada, appeared before Magistrate George B. McLeod in the provincial police court, Edmonton, Thursday morning, to answer to charges of shortages of between $25,000 and $30,000 from the Lacombe bank and was remanded for preliminary hearing eight days hence.

No evidence was given or called for at Thursday's court sitting, and the adjournment of the case was occasioned as a result of both prosecution and defence not being sufficiently ready to proceed with the charges. Graham appeared in the dock carrying an utterly dejected appearance and evidenced the fact that he felt his position very keenly.

Mr. Macdonald, of Lacombe, will act on behalf of the defence while William Short, K.C., will watch the case for the Union Bank. No application has been made for bail at the time of going to press.

FRENCH PRESIDENT HAD VERY NARROW ESCAPE

Montargis, France, May 24.—Paul Deschanel, president of the French republic, fell from a window of his train when it was a short distance from here last night. The train was moving at the time, but after his fall M. Deschanel walked a mile and a quarter in the darkness until he met a track walker.

The president had found it too hot in his compartment and rose to open a window. The window stuck, and when he tried to force it open, it gave way, and he was pitched out of the car. He was only slightly injured.

C.N.R. DRUMHELLER LINE IS OPEN AGAIN

Calgary, May 24.—After 36 days of tie-up owing to floods, the Canadian National railway line north to Drumheller is once more open, and through trains are being run to Saskatoon. The floods washed out many bridges on April 18 and 19 last.

CASHIER LOCKED IN VAULT WHILE BANK IS RIFLED

Pittsburg, May 24.—The First National Bank at Finleyville, Penna., near here, was held up and robbed shortly after noon by six men who escaped, according to word received here by the police. The bandits are said to have escaped with $100,000 in bonds and securities, and $150.000 in cash. The assistant cashier, who was the only man in the bank at the time, is reported to have been knocked unconscious and locked in the vault while the institution was rifled. A sheriff's posse has gone in pursuit.

The Red Deer district meeting of the Methodist Church was held at Olds last week, delegates from Red Deer being Revs. C. D. Armstrong, H. E. Suter and Jos. Woodsworth, and J. A. J. A. Markle, who has been spending the past year at the coast, taking a good rest after years of faithful service in the employ of the Federal government, was recalled a few days ago and has been in Red Deer awaiting further instructions. Things have not gone any too well in Alberta since Mr. Markle left last year for the coast, the losses being very heavy during the past winter. We believe the government will be as glad to see him back as his old friends in Red Deer. He is a hard man to replace, as his knowledge of the cattle situation and requirements in Alberta can only be learned by years of the hardest kind of study.

A FRIEND IN ADVERSITY.

The Editor, The News, Red Deer.

Dear Editor,—

I will feel much obliged if you can find space in your valuable paper for these few lines. In last week's Advocate the public's attention was drawn, with burning headlines, to a very sad case, the arrest of Mr. W. F. Graham, bank manager, Lacombe. Mr. Graham is one of the most highly esteemed and loved men that ever walked the streets of Lacombe. He was a friend of the poor as well as the rich; and it could be said of him, as Job of old, the widows blessed me, I clothed the children. His helping hand was known from Gilby and Leedale in the west to Alix in the east. When the news of his trouble was made public, a gloom was cast all over Lacombe and district, and I met people on every hand bemoaning the loss of such a splendid public man. The money could be raised in fifteen minutes. Mr. Graham was not an extravagant man, as some seem to think, and in the days when bankers were permitted to write insurance Mr. Graham worked as hard as he could in order to have everything in good shape. British law holds a man innocent until he is proven guilty, therefore he cannot be called a thief. If it should turn out that Mr. Graham never took any of the bank's money for himself, but only covered another man's faults who is not dead, all that spoke against him should feel sorry at their conduct. Let us learn the good old saying—never kick a man when he is down. Mr. Graham is at present in Edmonton but not in custody.

I am, yours faithfully,
LACHLAN MACLEAN.

RED DEER ONLY WINS ONE EVENT

But We Had Four Visiting Teams in Our City on Victoria Day, Providing Some Good Sport, Despite the Rough Weather.

With the promise of one football and three baseball games for the holiday, the rain during the night preceding caused a little discouragement, but it cleared in the morning and remained dry until about six o'clock, though it was very windy all day, spoiling the sport to a great extent, and busting up the senior baseball in the afternoon. The weather cleared again in the evening, allowing the youngsters to stage their ball game with Lacombe.

JUNIOR BASEBALL

The first contest was between junior teams from Ponoka and Red Deer, resulting in an easy win for Ponoka by 16-4. They were a much bigger and older bunch than the home team, and piled up a big score against Red Deer, in spite of Roy Pidgeon going in as an advertisement for Society Brand.

The home team consisted of H. George, c; H. Williams, p; J. Gregg, 1b; W. Mayberry, ss; Chas. McInerer, 2b; Robert Archer, 3b; George Reid, lf; Albert Irish, cf; Ira Townsend, rf.

In the evening the Juniors stacked up against Lacombe in a much fairer and evener game, and won out by 9-7. The boys claim they saved Red Deer from a whitewash in this game.

The Red Deer team were much the same as in the afternoon, as follows:

H. George, c; H. Williams and G. Reid, p; Mayberry and Williams, ss; John Gregg, 1b; Jim Murphy, 2b; Bob Archer, 3b; Ted Gaetz, rf; Ira Townsend, cf; Mayberry and G Reid, lf.

EDMONTON VETERANS SHOW GOOD FORM.

The second number on the programme was a football game between the Edmonton Veterans and Red Deer, and provided a very good exhibition for the first game of the season, though the wind was too strong for the proper control of the ball. Red Deer won the toss and played with the wind, holding the visitors down in the first half, though failing to score themselves.

In the second half Edmonton started in strong, and scored after ten minutes' play on a long shot which landed right in front of the goalkeeper, and, he reached for it, bouncing nearly over his head. The centre scored again shortly afterwards with a close-in shot on a pass from right wing which gave the goalkeeper no chance. This ended the scoring, and a very fair game ended 2-0 for the Veterans.

The Veterans showed marked superiority in combination work and training, and deserved their win. They played a clean and fast game throughout, and will be welcome in Red Deer any time they care to visit us, in the future.

The home defence played their usual game, but the forward line fell down when opportunities to score occured.

Red Deer were represented by the following: Goal, D. Wright; backs, Haste and Huestis; halves, Jones, Gardiner and Watson; forwards, Hopkins, Lowe, Linton, Banks and J. Wright.

W. G. Paterson refereed the first period, and the Edmonton manager the second.

RAIN SPOILS SENIOR BASEBALL

Red Deer and Innisfail seniors started their baseball game immediately after the football, and for five innings some ball was dished up which was good in places and ragged in others, then the rain came down and spoiled it all. This was Red Deer's first game this season, and though they were on the wrong end of a 9-5 score the game was called off on account of dampness, they have some good material, and with a little practice, we can look for some good ball as the season advances.

Red Deer started Letcher on the mound, but Percy Smith had to relieve.

The Innisfail battery were very steady, and worked well together.

The sensation of the game was a home run registered by Innisfail in the second inning.

The Veterans' and Citizens' Band gave a concert on the city square in the afternoon, going to the exhibition grounds in time for the baseball game. Leading a holiday air to the day, their patriotic pieces and catchy music were much appreciated.

The G.W.V.A. dance in the armouries, in the evening, was very well attended, and brought to a close a day in which several of our citizens had tried to give Red Deer a little of the old time sport, and succeeded in spite of the rough and stormy day.

H. A. Donnelly, of the dairy commissioner's department in Calgary, who represents the Hon. Duncan Marshall, states that there are actually 200 car loads of hay heading for Alberta. He states that about 60 have arrived in Calgary and that approximately 130 are intended for Edmonton.

Two years and seven months after the signing of the armistice the world seems to be as far away as ever from the vindication of those principles of peace and justice for which our men fought and died. What is the trouble? Many answers are being given to this most important of questions. Dr. Huestis will attempt to give the only valid answer—the answer of Jesus. He will also illustrate from a number of recent utterances of statesmen and scholars that the world is ready to accept this answer.

If every child wore Hurlbut Shoes

There would be no deformed feet in later life

BECAUSE Hurlbut Shoes are scientifically shaped to nature's demands.

They are not only roomy to give every toe its right to grow, but they support instep, arch and heel, and develop the growing foot.

Hurlbut's are comfortable — Hurlbut's are flexible. Sole and heel sewn to the uppers by the patent welt makes them more flexible. The shoe gives to the bend of the foot.

No tacks,—no ridges —cushion sole from heel to toe, prevents jar and jolt.

This all adds to the length of life.

There isn't any question that Hurlbuts are the highest quality children's shoes in Canada to-dy.

OPPOSITION DIVIDED ON TARIFF, SAYS MINISTER

Debate on Budget is Following Traditional Lines, and Will Continue For Over a Week—Trend of Discussion Favors Moderate Protection.

Ottawa, Ont., May 20.—Debate on the budget held the house during the afternoon and evening sittings of Wednesday and will be continued for another week or so. Mainly, it followed traditional lines, with the customary arguments on the respective merits of free trade and protection. Generally, the trend favored moderate protection, although A. R. McMaster, Liberal member for Brome, thought the protective tariff an evil thing. "Protection," he declared, "as a policy for the country is dead. After the next election, it will be damned."

Mr. McMaster was highly critical of the budget proposals. Why had there been no attempt to tax war wealth? It was all very well to talk of taxing luxuries; but a $45 suit was not a luxury at present prices. The "black-coated proletariat" would be the worst hit.

THE TAXABLE PORTIONS

As McMaster was speaking on the luxuries tax, progress in the debate was interrupted by an amusing incident. The point was whether luxury tax in the United States was paid on the whole purchase price (as in Canada) or on the price in excess of the exemption limit.

Mr. McMaster claimed that the United States charged on the excess price. Warmly, Col. J. A. Currie disagreed. Immediately there were cries that Mr. McMaster was right. Then one member offered to bet Col. Currie a new hat that he could buy a hat in the United States without paying tax on the whole price.

But the sporting offer went unaccepted. The speaker sharply called the house to order, and Mr. McMaster proceeded with his speech.

Hon. C. C. Ballantyne, minister of marine, who followed, twitted the opposition with having decided views on the tariff. As for himself, he believed in moderate protection. "And so does the government and the party to which I have the honor to belong."

He felt sure that the Canadian people would not brook interference with the country's fiscal policy.

AGAINST THE AUTOMOBILE

Luxury taxes found a supporter in W. F. Baldwin, fearful of the slaves of fashion and the mollycoddles of the country, he would place a prohibitive duty on automobiles coming from other countries. There was a craze to go "skating through the streets in a varnished chimera." They were death-dealing instruments, anyway, which had sent hundreds of men to untimely graves.

FARMERS' COMBINATION

During further debate, Capt. Manion of Fort William argued in favor of moderate tariffs, and S. E. Elkin of St. John, N.B., took occasion to ask if farmers were entitled to consideration before the rest of the country. Farmers in the west, he claimed, were

RHEUMATISM FOR OVER 16 YEARS

No Return Of The Trouble Since Taking "Fruit-a-tives"

103 CHURCH ST., MONTREAL.

"I was a great sufferer from Rheumatism for over 16 years. I consulted specialists; took medicine; used lotions; but nothing did me good.

Then I began to use "Fruit-a-tives", and in 15 days the pain was easier and the Rheumatism much better. Gradually, "Fruit-a-tives" overcame my Rheumatism; and now, for five years, I have had no return of the trouble. I cordially recommend this fruit medicine to all sufferers."

combined in a corporation to supply themselves with necessary articles; and the catalogue of the company showed that nearly all the goods were made in the United States.

The house, according to present indications, is likely to follow the unusual course of sitting on May 24. The proposal is also being made that, with a view of speeding prorogation, morning and Saturday sittings should be begun with as little delay as possible.

INDIRECT TAXATION REPLACED BY DIRECT

Winnipeg, May 20.—Speaking editorially, the Manitoba Free Press says:

"The taxation proposals are headed in the right direction for they replace indirect by direct taxation. The repeal of the 7½ per cent. customs war tax removes a very clumsy expedient for raising money which, in the incidence of its application, cost the people at least twice the $30,000,000 which it collected for the treasury."

On the point of the tariff the editorial says of the budget and the speech of Hon. W. S. Fielding:

"Sir Henry Drayton's definition of tariff policy and Mr. Fielding's speech and amendment, read together, simply support the view that they are in virtual agreement about the kind of tariff Canada should have. People who think there is war to the knife between the government and the opposition over the tariff have a singular power of self-delusion. They are both protectionist in their principles and desires; but liable, under severe pressure, to consent to reductions, almost to the tariff for revenue basis. That pressure will have to be applied equally to both parties by the tariff reformers of the west, and the only effective way that it can be applied, unless the forthcoming revision confirms those elusive sentences in the Drayton platform which hint at possible tariff reductions, will be through the election of Independent or third party candidates at the general election which in any case cannot be much longer postponed."

The Aftermath of Action

(By Henry Chas. Suter)

SACRIFICE AND SACRILEGE

He was like a bunch of many men, who in the days of war caught the fever of sacrifice. Not that he need go himself; Oh, dear no, but of course his wife must. In fact, he told him so, and practically pushed his son impetuously into the strife ere the lad could make up his own mind to go and join something in which he could serve better. The wife of this man was similar to many women, who, too, saw their swell lady friends giving up sons, and of course wanted to be in the swim of sacrifice. She had seen some of these lady friends drive their sons into the strife without the least capacity for the ordeal and result had been the speedy end of valuable lives. However, she had almost gone off her head with a sense of uselessness to a great cause, so when her husband approached her with the fact that their son had got to go and quickly about it, she acquiesced and incidentally hastened the tragedy of sacrifice.

So the poor, lad went and, like many others, was absolutely unfitted mentally and physically for the task he was rushed into, and to make a short story shorter—he died—on the altar of sacrifice, slain by the impulsive ambition of parents who might have waited until a work in the crisis could be discovered by these lads themselves more compatible to their abilities.

Unfortunately the story doesn't end here. I wish it did, for the war is over, and is but history, and only history I wish we could let it remain. But here is the continuation of the story of sacrifice and, alas, the narration of it is an ending that speaks of sacrilege. For ever since this man and wife lost their lad, and I repeat they are two of many such, they have been parading the story of their sacrifice and attempting to make profit thereby. This I repeat is sacrilege. It were better that the sacrifice had been borne in silence for the truth is that all such men and women wanted to sacrifice a dear one, not so much for the good of a great cause, but that their own personal ambitions might be served, and such action pertains of selfish aggrandisement which aggravates the guilt. Not a few are trading now upon what their dead sons did at the front. They have been talking about their sacrifices they made when these sons went and are still talking about it, and with the pernicious purpose of procuring certain patronages. It is sacrilege. The truth is that these lads could tell another side to the sacrifice were they alive. They would speak of the pitiless push that prevailed on the part of those over zealous people who stayed at home to talk about their sacrifices. They could tell of the racking of body, soul and spirit by unrelieved horrors of days and nights of struggle. They were more delicately constituted than many men and sickened and died, predisposed by sheer inability to go on living any longer in such a world of men. Many of their souls were stricken before their bodies were. They were sensitively organized fellows, lovers of the beautiful and they simply couldn't live. They died from wounds of the soul rather than wounds of the body. Officially their deaths may be ascribed by the doctors as something else, but the real cause was beyond a doctor's diagnosis. And these all died on the altar of sacrifice offered up by many who were able to stay safe at home. It was these sons who went to war who made sacrifices, and not those fathers and mothers who stayed at home and who have to do nothing but make vain boastful talk about sacrifices. If much of the talk was in commiseration for such deaths it would be excusable, but we know, alas, only too well, that most of it is used to procure personal favours and to "get" something. The thing is disgusting and becoming nauseating. It is treating sacrifice with sacrilege and sacrilege is not a pleasant word.

Fifty Years Young

FOR a life insurance company there is no such a thing as "old age." The older the company the more strength and energy it acquires.

The steady and consistent progress of the Mutual Life of Canada from its inception in 1869 to the present has been phenomenal—as uninterrupted as the growth of a tree.

The growth of the Mutual is evidenced by the different office buildings occupied during the half century. The preliminary meetings were held in the upper story of a conveyancer's office. Later a larger suite was secured, and in 1878 a permanent home was erected. The present office was occupied in 1912, to which already an enlargement has become necessary.

The motto of the Mutual is "Each for All and All for Each." This more and more expresses the spirit of the age and ensures the continued popularity of the company.

ALL IN A LIFETIME

It is a most terrible sensation to be in a big city, a stranger, with not a friend among the thousands that throng the streets, battle in the business world, take in the amusements or sit around the hearth stones of their city homes. Who hasnt been homesick—that gnawing feeling at the heart that is worse than any other sickness under the sun?.

That is just what was ailing Leo Colbert as he sat before a smoldering grate fire in the newly acquired suite at the largest hotel in the city. It was the first time he had had a breathing spell from the new work that had given him such a great opportunity, and carried with it a salary that a year before would have looked like a fortune.

Oh, yes, he had won success; he was fast on the road to fame and fortune. Somehow as he sat thinking it all over, the glamour of it all palled. What was success after all. Wasn't he much happier among his friends in his own home city at a salary half the present one, he asked himself.

Then the germs of homesickness got in their real work. For half an hour he battled with them. Why not give it all up and go back to his old position? The doors were wide open for him. There is where the malady reached the crisis.

He was too strong for it, the fighting Colbert blood won out. He would make the best of it; he would stick it out, you bet he would.

Surely in that big city there was some one he knew, some one with a cheery word of welcome and an outstretched hand of friendship. He located the telephone directory and turned the pages aimlessly.

What would he have given to go to the telephone and call Main 9678 and hear his sister's voice answer. But that Main 9678 was in another city many miles away; too far to get a speedy long distance message through. Was there a Main 9678 in that city.

For the lack of something else to do, he went to the telephone and tried the number on the operator. He waited for a second and then became excited. The operator had rung a line, the buzz had been quite audible.

"Hello!" It was not his sister's voice, but it was one almost as sweet. "Is that you Jessie?" He knew it was not, but he could not hang up the receiver without making a bluff at "wrong number."

"Yes; who is speaking?" came the surprising answer in an inviting tone.

"Leo Colbert, from back home," he half gasped.

"From Wishbright?" This time her voice pitched to delighted surprise.

"You bet," although he had never heard of Wishbright before.

"How are you, Leo, and how is everybody? I am just dying to hear news from home."

"I'm great and everybody's fine." He seemed just as eager to tell her the news as she was to hear it.

"Is Tiny Lewis alive, and how is Martha Lastar's rheumatism? Oh, Leo, tell me quickly."

"No, poor Tiny is dead, and Martha —."

So on, right down the list, she asked questions about people he had never heard of before, and he answered them as if they were all lifelong friends of his. Of course she thought he was some one else, but he was not going to miss talking to her because of a little thing like that.

"Can't I come up and see you?" he chimed in during a short lull in the questioning. "We can talk things over so much better then."

"Certainly come. Where are you?"

He told her the name of his hotel. Strangely enough it was only a short distance from her boarding house. It was just an easy walk, and he would be there in time to take her to the theatre.

As Leo stood at the door of the address she had given him his heart sank a trifle. This Jessie would know at once that he was a stranger to her, and would have nothing further to do with him.

Perhaps he had been foolish to spoil it all by calling personally. That voice had attracted him, however, and he made up his mind right there that it would take some rebuffing to squelch his aspirations for the owner's friendship.

Wonder of wonders! Instead of turning him away, there she was at the door with outstretched hand, and her smile of welcome was more wonderful than her voice.

"You have changed almost as much as I have" she told him, as she unburdened smile after smile. "I would hardly have known you."

"You have changed, too," he smiled back, "but I would have known you anywhere. Oh, Jessie, you are too wonderful for anything!" Right there he learned something—this Leo Colbert that she had known was the first lover she had ever had—her blush told him that, and somehow he liked the thought of it.

Cleverly he avoided topics that might unmask him. She was interested in other things besides the old folks at home, though, and so they had a most enjoyable evening, and he left with an invitation to come back the next night.

It was a strange courtship they launched out upon. After he had been calling on Jessie for three months Leo realized that he was very much in love with her, and he had guessed correctly that her feelings coincided very much with his.

Her friendship had filled so much of his life he had not had a chance to think over the deception he had been playing, but now that he had reached the point where he was going to ask her to become his wife, the thought troubled him. After all, was it him Jessie loved, if she did love? Was it not this other Leo he had masqueraded as who had won her affections. The thought of a rival frightened him.

If this other fellow was not he would go back to loneliness, back to his life of drudgery—to what he had been pleased to call fame and fortune. Oh, no, he would not! He could not stand it. If Jessie loved this other man, then it was back to the old home city for him—back to his little two by four job, with nothing but hard work and little pay to look forward to. There was only one thing to do—confess to Jessie and leave his fate in her hands.

Jessie listened calmly while he poured out his tale like a repentant schoolboy. He was almost on his knees to her, too, but she brought him to his feet in time.

"I have known it all along," she smiled. "I was bluffing, too. My name isn't Jessie, and I never heard of a Leo Colbert until you told me your name over the telephone. Wishbright does not exist, and those people I asked you about, and you knew so much about, never lived as far as I know. I was homesick and lonely, too, that night, so I was ready to listen to any voice that had a friendly note in it. It was all in a lifetime I thought, so I let you come. I was terribly afraid at first, but now I know it was all for the best."

"And there isn't a Leo Colbert that you love?" he asked, hardly able to believe his ears.

"Oh, yes, there is," she smiled into his face. "I am in his arms now."

Mr. Geo. W. Collins, Plainfield, Ont., writes:
"Gentlemen,—In regard to your Calf Meal, I think you have the best on the market, as people who have bought it give it great praise. Some have taken their calves off sweet milk, and feed them nothing but your Calf Meal and water, and say they are doing as well on it as they did on the whole milk."

To Whom It May Concern: Uxbridge, Aug. 5th
This is to certify that I have secured your "Royal Purple" Calf Meal from our druggist, Mr. T. C. Nicholls, of Uxbridge, and can speak of this meal in the highest terms. I have used other calf meals, but this one is the best I ever tried. I never saw a calf gain more rapidly and thrive better than mine did while using your "Royal Purple" Calf Meal. RED DEER ORATOR PAYS HIGH TRIBUTE TO ARTHUR MEIGHEN

Dr. Michael Clark in the House of Commons paid a striking tribute to the work of the Minister of the Interior and the Chairman of the Soldier Settlement Board. Following the minister's able presentation of the land settlement estimates, Dr. Clark expressed his appreciation, observing that as years advanced on one, one naturally became of a more pacific and less militant type, and he found more interest in considering politics of this class than in the fierce clashes of party warfare. It was a personal pleasure to hear a statement in which he found everything to commend and nothing to criticize. Speaking of the progress of soldier settlement in Alberta, the Red Deer orator said:—

"I am naturally, Mr. Chairman, and the committee will pardon me, if I say it, proud of the province from which I come. The figures about that province, good as I know it to be, astonish me, though I do not know why they should. Alberta led in recruiting in war; she leads in soldier settlement on the land in peace; and she leads in hustlers who pay the money back first. That province must, at some time or another, have had a good education in patriotism, in agriculture, and in hustling. The members from other provinces will pardon me for drawing attention to these facts. It is not by way of pride but by way of trying to induce emulation in others and bringing other provinces up to the splendid position in which we find the good little province of Alberta.

"The statement of the minister is a splendid advertisement of the magnificent resources of this great country. I was astounded myself to find that so many as sixty-four men had actually now paid back all they borrowed. It was rather a swift and staggering reply to some one who tauntingly said, when the minister was asked a few minutes ago how man years were to be given to the paying back—Never.' 'Never,' as I told a member the other day, is a long time; and it so happened that some people have already paid back all that they got. I repeat that is a splendid advertisement of this magnificent country. It is an advertisement which should be used in other countries of the earth to let them know what sort of a country Canada really is.

"I want to say also that the statement of the minister is a high tribute to the way in which the work of the Interior Department in its administrative capacity is carried on, and it is a tribute to the splendid qualities of the members of the Soldiers' Land Settlement Board. I have had considerable dealings—as I suppose all members of the House have had—with these gentlemen, and it is a pleasure to me to testify that they have the utmost capacity for hard work, they are extremely courteous in the reception of any suggestion, anxious to help and anxious to be helped, and they have, above all things, that enthusiasm which is always followed by hard work. And, the minister would be the first to agree with me that they have been of very great assistance to him in carrying out this Act."

Further on in his remarks, Dr. Clark said:

"Another point upon which I think the minister is to be congratulated is the fact that he and the board are giving a predominant chance to the citizens of our country, I think there is a double reason which will occur to the members of the committee, why that should be done. In the first place, our primary duty, as every one of us will agree—it is commonplace almost to say it—is to our own citizens; but in the second place, and perhaps more important it is along that line that we shall achieve the greatest success, because men who know something of Canada will naturally make better Canadian farmers; although I do hope that in time, with the extension of its operations, an increasing number of British and French citizens from the Old Lands will be found working under the Board."

THE REAL TEST OF CHRISTIANITY

(Contributed by H. F. Ball.)

I think the time has come when we should cease to accept a man's own word in regard to his Christianity. Why ever substitute a man's own testimony for the excellent test Jesus Himself supplied us? By their fruits shall ye know them. When asking a doubtful man "Are you a Christian?" the minister may have in his mind the idea of a conscious acceptance of Jesus Christ; but the man himself almost invariably things of Christian character and conduct, and often is too modest to seem very confident abut the matter. If I ask one of these men, a big man: (1) "Are you honest?" he would probably unhesitatingly reply, "I am." (2) If, however, I ask him, "Are you a gentleman?" then, if he is a gentleman, and modest withal, he will probably more hesitatingly answer, "I hope so." (3) If I ask him "Are you a good man?" then, if he is a good man, he will probably grow embarrassed and likely answer not at all. (4) If, however, I should ask, "Are you a Christian?" he grows still more embarrassed, and, probably because he is a Christian, either answers not at all or else "unsatisfactorily." The first question is certainly a personal one; but the second is more personal, the third is still more so, and the fourth is the most personal, vital and sacred of them all. That is why a good man is often more modest and reserved on this matter than any other question relating to his conduct. As we ascend in the category of moral values suggested by the first three questions, we are conscious of an increasing healthy disinclination to take a man's own word; but usually, when we come to the fourth question, which sums up all these values of the soul, we very unnaturally reverse this order and expect the man to lay off his modesty at a moment when his own natural instincts tell him it is most needed. To ask a man "Are you a Christian?" is to ask him to sit in judgment upon himself, and for us to accept his own verdict as final and infallible is the height of folly. "By their fruits shall ye know them." Not by their own testimony, especially if it be a negative one. Nevertheless, people of this type do need an awakening; but it is a spiritual and devotional rather than a moral awakening, one that answers to consecration rather than conversion. These men are not "back-sliders," for, as one brother expressed it ,they have never "front-slid"; neither are they correctly designated "lost," "unsaved," etc.; nor giving the best that Christianity requires. Yes, they need awakening. They evidently need some such great spiritual impetus as "conversion" offers; but they are more than half suspicious that they are not of the "lost" and "unregenerate" class, in spite of the preacher's assurances to the contrary; hence "conversion" does not appeal to them, and they miss its mighty impetus.

Suppose we recognise the Christianity of these men and treat them in their own class, and, instead of appealing to them as unconverted persons, we assume their Christianity and appeal to them with all the fervour of a revival to publicly consecrate themselves, pledging themselves by the grace of God to endeavor to live Christ-like lives. The emphasis here is not on the "pledging," but on the "publicly pledging" themselves. After all, conversion is a sort of a pledge, and it is the pledge that is contained in conversion that gives to it so much of its beneficial definiteness and impulse. In both cases the pledgers are conscious of the same holy impulse and religious impetus; each says within his heart, "There! I've done it now; I've just got to make good now, God helping me." I emphasize the public side of this consecration pledge because of the undoubted benefits derived from any sort of public giving up. Many of the men will never respond to an appeal for conversion, perhaps properly so; but they are conscious of a need for consecration, and the ministry is much more likely to succeed with such men by appealing to a real need than to a fictitious one.—The Christian Guardian, Toronto.

A LITTLE NONSENSE NOW AND THEN SAFETY FIRST.

Edith—"When it comes to love, I wouldn't give a thought to how much a man is making."

Maud—"Neither would I, dear. What would primarily interest me would be how much he had already made. There's no use taking chances."

FORMING THE HABIT.

Mrs. Hemmandhaw—"I can often tell where my husband has been by what he brings home."

Mrs. Shimmerpate—"Souvenirs?"

"No, he never takes spoons or anything."

"Then what do you mean?"

"When he brought home a roach the other day I knew he had been at the shop."

"Uh huh?"

"And when he brought home a grasshopper in the cuff of his trousers I immediately deducted he had been in the park."

"Uh huh?"

"Well, say. A circus is coming to town next week. Better keep him at home or he might bring you an elephant."

SHOCKING

An elderly lady of very prim and severe aspect was seated next a young couple, who were discussing the merits of their motor cars.

"What color is your body?" asked the young man of the girl at his side, meaning, of course, the body of her motor.

"Oh, mine is pink. What is yours?"

"Mine," replied the man, "is brown with wide yellow stripes."

This was too much for the old lady. Rising from the table, she exclaimed:

"When young people come to asking each other the color of their bodies at a dinner-party, it is time I left the room."

PRETTY WELL MATCHED

Two young women entered a car and found only standing room. One of them whispered to her companion:

"I'm going to get a seat from one of these men."

She looked down the row of passengers and selected a very sedate man, who bore the general settled appearance of a married man. She sailed up to him and boldly opened fire:

"My dear Mr. Green: How delighted I am to meet you! You are almost a stranger. Will I accept your seat? Well, I do feel tired, I heartily admit. Thank you so much."

The sedate gentleman—a total stranger, of course—looked, listened, then quietly arose and gave her his seat, saying:

"Sit down, Jane, my girl. Don't often see you out on a washing day. You must feel tired, I'm sure. How's your mistress?"

The young woman got her seat, but lost her vivacity.—Houston Post.

AND SHE'S VERY RESERVED, TOO.

A young Oakville school-ma'am boarder was a stout, jolly girl and rather broad from rear view. She had kindly consented to look after nine-year-old Jack, while his mother took a month's holiday. Of course, Jack had to be spanked occasionally, and the teacher was quite equal to the task. Jack didn't mind it when he had his "knickers" on, but sometimes the only pants he was allowed to wear was the pair that nature gave him.

One day she turned him over the knee, and as she applied the shingle, he remarked: "O-o-h gee! Miss Blank, spank easy, it stings awful on the bare, bare place."

"It will do you good," said the teacher, as she paused a moment: "it will make the bare place grow."

"Gee! Miss Blank," said Jack, "you must a-got a lot of spankins when you was small."

And poor Jack couldn't understand why she smacked him harder.

HE HAD SUFFERED FOR FORTY YEARS

"I Knew I Couldn't Hold Out Much Longer," Says McPhee—Troubles Gone Now.

"I am sixty-two years old, and during the past forty years I can hardly remember a day that I was free from suffering, but since taking Tanlac I have gained fifteen pounds, and am feeling like a young man again," was the statement made by D. McPhee, a well known miner, who is operating his mine at Hotham Sound, B.C., recently.

"It does me good to tell the people about Tanlac, for after a man has suffered like I have he learns what good health means, and when I bought this medicine I bought good health. It was back in 1880 that my troubles started, and during all these years I spent lots of money and tried every known medicine and treatment, but in spite of it all I got worse and worse until I became practically a wreck. First, my stomach got out of order, and I hated to see meal time come, for often just the smell of food nauseated me. As soon as I ate a few bites my stomach turned sour and I would become bloated up with gas. My heart palpitated terribly, and I had a burning like fire in my chest. Then I started suffering with headaches and nearly every day that came my head hurt, sometimes so bad that it almost ran me wild. Next rheumatism set in my feet and legs and at times I could hardly get around at all. Then I had awful pains in my back and they would travel up into my shoulders so that it was agony for me to move my arms. My nerves broke down under the strain, and after that I don't think I slept well a single night. I suffered from constipation and had to be taking laxatives all the time. I fell off in weight until I went down to one hundred and thirty-five pounds, was too weak to work, and I knew I couldn't hold out much longer.

"Well, when a man suffers that way, and for forty years at that, and then finds a medicine that knocks his troubles winding, I tell you, it makes him want to go out and tell everybody he meets about it. Well, that just what Tanlac has done for me, and as long as I have a breath left in me I will continue to shout its praise. I have an appetite like a bear now, everything I eat tastes good, and I never have a sign of indigestion afterwards. I can't tell I ever had rheumatism in my life and the pains in my back and shoulders have disappeared entirely. The headaches are gone and I am no longer troubled with constipation. My nerves are as steady as a clock, I sleep like a log, and I feel so well and strong in every way that I want to take my place beside a young man for I believe I can do as much work as any man. I am going back to my work now at the mine, and I am leaving in the morning, and to show you how much I think of Tanlac I am carrying several bottles along with me."

Tanlac is sold in Red Deer by Gaetz-Cornett Drug & Book Co., and by the leading druggist in every town.

CONCEIT OF SEX

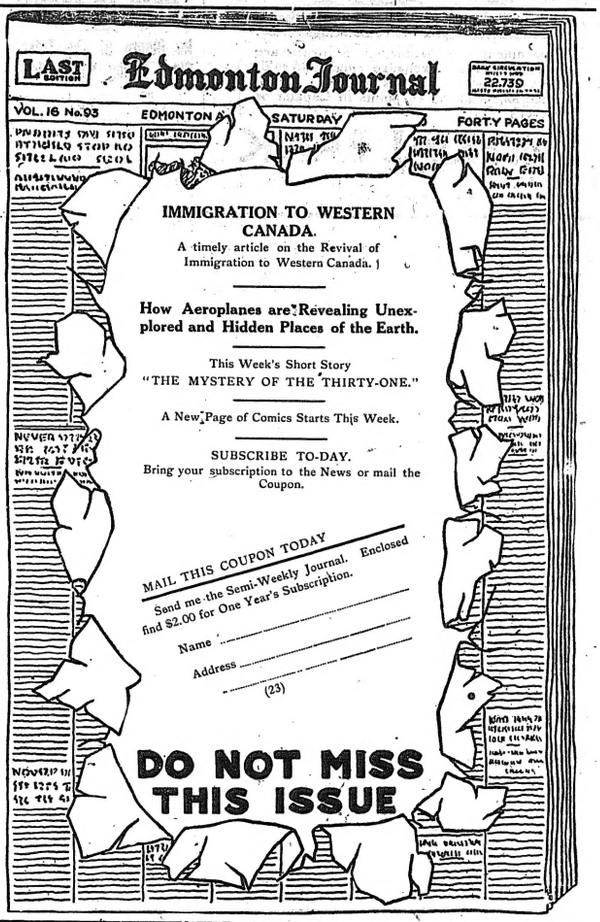

The feeling of superiority in the sterner sex is inborn.

"Mamma, do you think you'll go to heaven?" said Jack, looking thoughtfully into his mother's face.

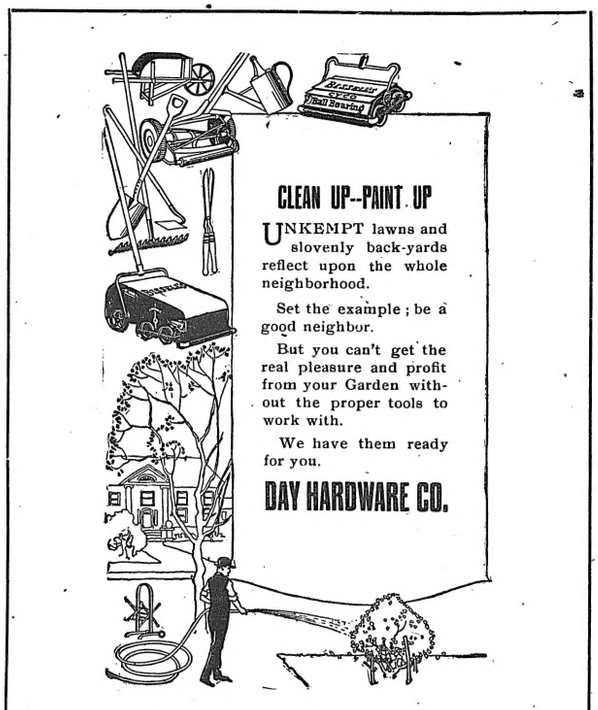

"Yes, dear, if I'm good," said the mother cautiously, wondering what was coming next.

"Then please be good, for papa and I would be lonesome without you."

Chateau de Ramezay One of Montreal's Historic Relics

The running of the sands of time alone can give the proper perspective and value to historic buildings Societies spring up to preserve these relics of the past.

Perhaps the most famous of these memorials of the past in Canada is the Chateau de Ramezay in Montreal, which has remained almost untouched since the days of the old French regime. It was built in 1705 by Seigneur Claude de Ramezay, eleventh governor of Montreal. Here he kept open house with his wife, whose hand was the reward of his gallant sortie with 800 men in aid of Quebec in 1690, when the Count de Frontenac, governor of Canada, fended off the English fleet of Sir William Phipps.

The Chateau stands in what was once the fashionable part of old Montreal, amid mansions and gardens that merged into the neighboring forests. To-day the homes of Montreal have forsaken the busy waterfront and climb, their charming gardens still clinging to them, up the slopes of Mount Royal.

From the days of de Ramezay the Chateau has been the scene of many historic assemblies. Its roof sheltered not only the governor-generals, their suites of fair women and brave men and their illustrious guests, but fur traders, scouts, militia leaders, and Indians.

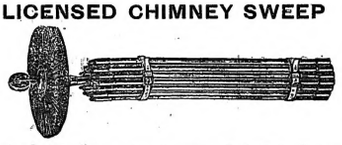

In 1745 it passed into the hands of the Campagnie des Indes and as Indian House became the centre of a great fur trade, filling this picturesque and important role for nearly twenty years.

In 1763, after the cession of Canada, it was again the residence of the governor, and invitations to receptions held there during the following century are still in existence.

The Chateau was headquarters for the army of the Continental Congress in its fruitless effort to hold Canada for the thirteen colonies. After Benedict Arnold failed in his treason he retired to Montreal and stayed there for a time. Benjamin Franklin lived in the Chateau when he visited Montreal in 1776 in his effort to persuade the French Canadians to join the new nation in the south, but his was a vain hope. During his stay there he established the Montreal "Gazette," which is still running. Needless to say, he did not found this paper for the purpose of propaganda.

After 1849, the Chateau was for thirty-five years used for government offices. When the government removed to Ottawa, the city presented the Chateau to the Numismatic and Antiquarian Society for a museum, and as such it is unique. Its collection contains all sorts of things ranging from crude home-made utensils fashioned by the clumsy hands of frontier habitants to portraits done by world-renowned artists. One of the most priceless things among the thousands contained in the Louisbourg bell hung in the church there in 1724.

WHAT WAS NEEDED MOST

"Patience" was the subject of the teacher's discourse, and to illustrate her point she drew on the blackboard a picture of a small boy sitting on the bank of a stream fishing. "You see this lad, children," she said, beaming on her pupils; "he is fishing. Well, even the pleasure of fishing requires patience. He must be prepared to sit and wait." For a little while longer she dilated on the beauties of being patient. Then came the time for her to test her work. "Now, then, can any of you boys tell me what we need most when we go fishing?" she invited. Like one voice came a chorus from the class: "Bait!"

MEMORIAL METHODIST CHURCH ANNUAL MEETING

Very gratifying reports were presented from the various departments of the Methodist Church at the Annual Congregational meeting held last Thursday evening.

In spite of the fact that the church has suffered through the removal of several families who have long been associated with the work of the church the attendance at the church services has been much larger this year than for some time.

The Sunday School attendance has also been very satisfactory, and the givings of the school show an increase over last year of over 50%. The removal of Mr. W. T. Coote, the Sunday School Superintendent, was a distinct loss to the school. The sessions have been held immediately after the morning service, and this plan has met with general approval.

The W.M.S. report showed an increase of 35% over the givings of last year. A special interest is being taken in Miss Ward's work in West China, and in the Ruthenian School for Girls, recently opened at Radway Centre, in this Province.

Under the presidency of Mrs. W. A. Moore, the Ladies Aid Society has had a most successful year. The receipts for the year for this Society were over thirteen hundred dollars.

The general report on the church finances was presented by Mr. J. E. Welton, secretary treasurer of the church, and by Mr. W. E. Payne, chairman of the Finance Committee.

The loose collections during the year were far in advance of the preceding year. The expenses of maintaining the church have been more than ordinarily heavy, the bill for fuel being double that of the previous year. In spite of the fact that there was also a special expenditure for repairs and insurance of the Church, the taxes for this year have already been paid, and all outstanding accounts have been paid. During the year a special effort has been made to reduce the capital mortgage on the church. When the returns for this are all in, the annual payment of interest charges will be considerably lessened. The financial situation of the church is improving steadily, and, with the active co-operation of the membership and adherents of the Church, the work of the Finance Committee will be greatly lightened.

The work of the Choir during the year has been greatly appreciated and a very hearty vote of thanks was tendered to Mr. Welton and the choir for their excellent services.

A vote of thanks was also given to the Press for the generous consideration shown by both the News and the Advocate in giving publicity to the work of the church.

During the course of the evening Mrs. B. Oulton, soprano soloist, rendered a musical number in her usual pleasing style, and, at the close of the business, the ladies served refreshments.

A feeling of general good fellowship marked all the proceedings, and there is every indication that the social life of the church will be greatly improved during the coming year. Already the choir has arranged for a "Hard Times Social" and this event will prove to be one of very great interest and pleasure.

The following will have charge of the various organizations of the church during the coming year:

Sunday School Superintendent—Mr. E. M. Willson.

President Ladies Aid Society—Mrs. H. H. Humber.

President W. M. S. Auxiliary—Mrs. L. J. Porter.

Chairman of Finance Committee—Mr. W. E. Payne.

Organist and Choir Director—Mr. J. E. Welton.

Where the Appetite is Always Keen.

Sections of the Alpine Club of Canada in all parts of the Dominion have received the anniversary message of the director, Arthur O. Wheeler, interprovincial boundary survey commissioner for B.C. There is much in this document of special interest to members of the club, but there is also a great deal which affects the general public, since it looks forward to a greatly increased tide of summer travel into the fastnesses of the great hills.

The director's message opens with comments on the prosperous standing of the club and the success of the camp at Yoho lake last summer. Thanks are also tendered to many who helped to make the camp successful. Mention is made of renewed photographic activities in the mountains and of the fact that the challenge cup for competition by amateur mountain photographers was won last summer by Dr. H. E. Bulyea of Edmonton.

With reference to the erection of a suitable memorial to the soldier members of the Alpine club, the director says: "It is decided to do this on two separate lines, first, to place a record of all our members on military service and particularly those who have joined the supreme honor roll, on the club house grounds at Banff, and second, the erection of a hut above timber line at some serviceable place in the Canadian Rockies for the use of our members and possibly the public who are interested in making mountain climbs."

With reference to independent mountaineering during the past year mention is made of the first ascents of Mt. King George, and several other peaks of the Royal Group, lying in a hitherto unexplored district fifty miles southwest of Banff. Mt. Sir Douglas and Mt. Joffre were also climbed for the first time last summer.

After some comment on the Banff winter carnival, in which the Alpine club takes an active interest, having been donors of a challenge cup for hockey, the director takes up the matter of the forthcoming "Welcome Home" camp to be held at Mt. Assiniboine from July 20th to 31st, 1920. At this camp more than 300 people will be placed under canvas and the special feature will be the fact that all returned members will attend as guests of the club. The camp will be situated three days' journey from the railroad and transportation of baggage will be by a specially organized pack train known as the "Alpine club pack train." Of special interest to the general public is the fact that this pack train will be in operation throughout the summer and anyone wishing to make a really interesting trip into the heart of the mountains can do so at a minimum expense. The camp at Mt. Assiniboine and the "Overnight Camps" on the way thither from Banff will be open to the public from the first of July until the end of September, except during the two weeks when they will be occupied by members of the Alpine club. At any time during the summer walking tours may be taken to Mount Assiniboine and these camps will be open to furnish good meals and a bed to the tramper at the end of his day's journey. There is only one way to really see the mountain and that is on foot, but so far this pleasure has been confined to the very few, on account of the difficulty of carrying food and bedding. These difficulties are now to be removed and it is planned in coming years to arrange many such walking and riding tours for the benefit of the public.

In conclusion the director quotes the verses of a gifted Calgary poetess, Miss Marian L. Moodie:

Oh wind that comes out of the West,
the land of the sunset skies,
Where far o'er yon mountain's crest
those glorious colors rise,
You bring me the fragrance of pine,
the coolness of mountain snow,
The music of falling streams by the hills where the lilies grow.

Oh wind that comes out of the West,
you sigh on your way to the plain.
The mountain land is the best. Will you not come back again?
Glow skies with your golden light,
Blow softly wind from the hill
For my heart has a longing tonight, that only the mountains can fill.

THE 1920 TAXATION

Minister of Finance Drayton Brings Down Budget

Ottawa, May 18.—The following is a summary of the taxation proposals submitted to parliament by the minister of finance this afternoon:

Luxury Taxes

Ten per cent of the total purchase price on boots and shoes costing over $9 a pair; men's and boys' suits costing over $45; men's and women's overcoats costing over $50 each; fur coats and robes over $100 each; women's dresses over $45; women's suits over $60 and on hats, hose, neck wear, shirts, gloves and purses costing above certain specified figures, as well as on some other wearing apparel; all fans, cut glassware, opera glasses, velvet and silk fabrics, lace, ribbons, silk embroideries and sporting goods. Also on trunks over $40 each and valises, suit cases, etc., over $25 each. This tax to be paid by the purchaser to the vendor at the time of sale.

Ten per cent on pleasure boats, yachts, canoes, motor boats, cameras, candy and confectionery, chewing gum, fire arms, shells or cartridges, pianos, organs, musical instruments and plated ware adapted for household use. This tax payable at the time of sale by Canadian manufacturers or when imported.

Twenty per cent of total purchase price on such articles as cigar and cigarette holders and pipes costing over $2.50; humidors and other equipment for smokers, hunting, shooting and riding garments, fancy pocket knives, gold, silver, ebony and ivory toilet ware, jewelry, articles of silver adapted for household or office use, fur wearing apparel (except as mentioned above), liveries, oriental rugs, expensive carpets and curtains and chandeliers. This tax payable by purchaser at the time of purchase.

Twenty per cent on mechanical player pianos, gramophones and mechanical musical instruments and records used therewith.

Fifty per cent on articles of gold for household use.

Latter two taxes to be paid at time of sale by manufacturer or when imported.

Playing cards, 25 cents a pack on cards selling at wholesale rates not over $25 per gross packs and 50 cents a pack on cards above $25 per gross packs.

Beer, wines and spirits—Increase in excise duties on beer of 30 cents a gallon; non-sparkling wines, 30 cents a gallon; spirits, $2 a gallon.

Motor cars—Excise tax on Canadian manufactured and imported cars increased from 10 to 15 percent.

Sales Taxes

One per cent on the sales of all manufacturers, wholesale dealers, jobbers or importers (not retailers). This tax not to apply to large list of essential foodstuffs, cattle foods, anthracite or bituminous coal or to goods exported.

Stamp duties — Existing taxes on checks continued but rate increased on bills of exchange and promissory notes. Two cents for bills of $100 or less and 2 cents for each additional $100 or fractional part thereof.

Stamp duties on patent medicines, etc., henceforth to be affixed by the manufacturer or importer instead of retailer as now.

Film tax of 15 cents for each day used abolished because of inequality of incidence as between small and large theatres.

All above taxes are effective from the 19th inst.

Income Tax

By last year's legislation income taxes payable this year on 1919 incomes were very substantially raised. A further general addition to these taxes of 5 per cent is now added on incomes of $5,000 and up to be effective this year.

In future income tax returns must be accompanied by a check of at least 25 per cent of the whole of the amount estimated to be payable. If paid in instalments, interest at 6 per cent is to be charged and payment in full is required within six months after return is made by means of three equal bi-monthly instalments. Heavy penalties are provided for incorrect returns.

Business Profits Tax

Present tax is modified by increasing the exemption allowed from 7 to 10 per cent and changing the schedule of taxation to the following:

On profits in excess of 10 per cent on capital but not exceeding 15 per cent tax will be 20 per cent.

On profits in excess of 15 per cent on capital but not exceeding 20 per cent, tax will be 50 per cent.

On profits in excess of 20 per cent on capital, but not exceeding 30 per cent, tax will be 50 per cent.

On profits in excess of 30 per cent on capital, tax will be 60 per cent.

For small businesses with capital of not less than $25,000 and under $50,000, twenty per cent on all profits exceeding 10 per cent will be taken instead of 20 per cent as at present.

Under legislation of last session the maximum scale of business tax is in effect this year and the modified tax will apply to 1920 profits taxable in 1921.

Tariff Changes

The 7½ per cent war customs duty it taken off all remaining items. Last year the 5 per cent British preferential war tax was entirely removed, as well as the 7½ per cent on food, clothing, agricultural implements, etc. The war customs duties imposed in 1915 are now entirely removed.

Sir Henry also announced that public sittings for tariff revision would be held throughout Canada after prorogation.

HAS LENINE LOST PUNCH IN MOSCOW?

London, May 20.—In official quarters in London reluctance is indicated in accepting as a fact the rumor that General Alexis A. Brussiloff, commander-in-chief of the Russian armies under the imperial regime, and now a member of the supreme command of the Bolshevist forces, has usurped the power in the soviet government in Moscow wielded in the past by Nicolai Lenine and the other people's commissaries. But while reticent as to the contents of the more recent dispatches, officials show a willingness to attribute the interruptions in wireless communications with Moscow to an explosion and a fire.

It is hinted that there are grounds for believing that this "account" may be traced to Polish machinations, timed to agree with the succession of the Polish aggressors in the region of Kiev.

It was pointed out Wednesday that generals and other officers of high rank known to be associated with Brussiloff in the supreme command of the Bolshevist armies are among the most trusted of the Russian Soviet commanders, and that this would seem to negative the suggestion that Brussiloff has been constituted a virtual dictator and surrounded by "light weight" staff officers who are mere figureheads.

"What," asked the pupil at a Boston High School, "does the word 'dogmatic mean?" "Have you looked it up in the dictionary?" "Why, no—is it in the dictionary?" "Certainly. Why not?" "I always supposed 'dogmatic' was slang!"

Miss Beacon (of Boston)—Do you never feel an insatiate craving for the unattainable—a consuming desire to transcend the limitations which hedge mortality, and commune, soul to soul, with the spirits infinite?

Omaha Man—Y-a-a-s, kinder.—Judge.

MID-SUMMER HALF HOLIDAYS

THE BIBLE IN MOTION PICTURES

A picturization from a strictly historical standpoint, of the many dramatic stories of the Bible, is the latest and most important event in the motion picture world.
The forthcoming cinema edition of the Holy Writ, will, it is declared by the clergy, prove the most potent means yet devised for the promulgation of religion among millions of people not now directly reached by the churches.

FIFTY TWO SUBJECTS.

The first series will consist of fifty-two two-reel subjects produced with historical accuracy but without sect or creed, thus making them acceptable to all denominations who will be free to place their own interpretation on the lessons taught by the visualized incidents, also making the picture desirable on theatre programs where their subtle religious propaganda will prove a vital force for uplift and betterment of the people. The spiritual Christian viewpoint will always be kept foremost in their production.

EXECUTIVE BOARD

An Executive Board composed of five of the leading ministers of Pasadena, California, assisted by an advisory Board of fifty or more ministers of many denominations from various parts of the United States and Canada, will select the stories to be pictured and exercise general supervision over their production.
The conception of the most noted painters of Biblical subjects will be followed in the selection of the players for the character parts, costumes and scenic settings.

PRODUCING STAFF

On the producing staff are such celebrities as Dr. Maxwell Ryder, formerly Professor of Biblical History and Archeology at Oxford, and whose textbook on dramatic art is used in the leading Dramatic Schools of England. He has also wide experience in motion picture production and is a noted playwright.
Dr. Allan Moore, a Church of England rector, with seventeen years as missionary in Palestine to his credit, has been secured to insure accuracy in costume, customs and scenic locations. Much of his life was spent among the tribes of the Atlas mountains who retain the customs and dress of Biblical times. He has brought to this country approximately four tons of properties consisting of plows, implements, tools, household utensils, saddles, costumes, etc., for use in the production of these pictures.
The cities of Palestine and Egypt will be reproduced with the utmost attention to detail under the direction of the Research Department.

PLAYERS

It would be manifestly inappropriate to use any so-called "motion picture stars" in these productions as it is the Biblical character that is important rather than the personality of any actor, and for this reason character actors of the type most suited to the particular character to be portrayed will be selected.
The making of Biblical pictures has been urged by churches for several years, but companies hesitated to undertake the work on account of the uncertainty of returns from pictures made for showing in the churches, and when the present plan was undertaken it was after months of study and research that a type of picture and method of handling the subject was evolved that was alike acceptable to the theatres and the churches.

THE ORGANIZATION

A group of five prominent laymen of Pasadena, California, active in church work, eminently successful in business, and each representing a different denomination, organized the Bible Films Corporation of America, after having received the assurance of the hearty co-operation of their respective ministers.
Hon. A. L. Hamilton, Mayor of Pasadena, former Superintendent of Schools, head of the Congregational Bible School, is President.
F. DeWitt Smith, orange grower, Director Central Oil Co., with large lumber interests in Tennessee, is Vice-President. (Presbyterian.)
Charles N. Post, formerly President and Manager of Lyon & Healy Music Co., Chicago, now Vice-President of the National Bank & Trust Company of Pasadena, is Treasurer. Vestryman of All Saints Church (Episcopal).
Richard C. Kumler, of the Rike-Kumler Company, wholesale and retail department store, Dayton, Ohio, Secretary and Manager. (United Brethren).
A. L. Phillips, President and owner of the Santa Fe Warehouse, Los Angeles, is the fifth director. (Methodist).

THE ADVISORY BOARD

The Advisory Board is to be increased and the Bible Films Corporation of America, Pasadena, California, ask that any minister desiring to have a part in this great work, communicate with the company at once.

THE STUDIO

A contract has been made with the San Gabriel Film Corporation for the production of the pictures and they will be made under the most ideal surroundings as the studio of that company is the most beautiful in California.

THE PRODUCERS

The officers of the San Gabriel Film Corporation are:
President—A. F. Reitzel, of Minneapolis, banker and large owner of the Western Crucible Steel Company.
Vice-President and General Manager—Fred H. Sears, formerly of Dayton, Ohio, twelve years attorney with Chicago Surface Railways, graduate of DePaw University, member of Phi Gamma Delta Fraternity, member of Motion Picture Producers' Association with wide experience in picture production. Said by the late Hon. Charles W. Fairbanks to be 'A man with a vision but not visionary."
Secretary and Treasurer—Conrad S. Taylor, of Pasadena, California, an active church worker and a man of large banking and manufacturing experience.

High Cost of Railroading

At the annual meeting of the shareholders of the Canadian Pacific Railway, held in Montreal, Mr. E. W. Beatty, President of the Company, stated that the annual report reflected vividly the situation prevailing in respect of the increased cost of operation. The gross earnings were the largest in the Company's history, exceeding those of 1918 by $19,391,362, yet the net earnings were less by $1,569,351. The large increase in working expenses showing a total increase since 1917 of $38,159,706 is a striking example of the effect of the increased cost of wages and material in spite of the Company's conservative and economical administration.
While it is gratifying that even with these exceptional costs the Company had during the past two years earned fixed charges and usual dividends, nevertheless the relation between earnings and expenses must now receive most careful consideration. The upward trend in costs of the last two years has not been equalized by increases in the gross earnings and operating economies. The extent of the rate increases fixed by the Dominion Railway Commission has not equalled the increased costs recently forced on all Companies. Between 1914 and 1919 the working expenses of the Company had climbed from $87,388,000 to $144,000,000, an increase of 64 p.c. Within the same period the increases in freight and passenger rates amounted in actual fact to 30 p.c. in freight rates and 10 p.c. in passenger rates. Thus during the past five years the percentage increase in operating expenses was double the percentage in tolls accorded to the Railway Companies.
Owing to the parity of conditions existing between the United States and Canada, the Canadian roads during the war had to accept the high wage scales made effective under Government control of American roads and also to continue operating under similar tariff tolls. These tariffs were entirely inadequate as results in the United States clearly demonstrated. Recent legislation has assured American carriers of rates which will return fixed percentage on the value of the undertakings used in the public service. This will mean a reconsideration of, and increase in the rates now current in the United States. No doubt the necessity of rate adjustments will be given earnest consideration by the Government and the Dominion Railway Board. Such readjustment is amply warranted both on the ground of the value of service rendered by the carriers and the cost to them of performing such service.
The rates in Canada should be determined having regard to the cost and value of services, and the legitimate needs of the railway companies. The properties of the Canadian Pacific are in excellent condition and at no time in its history has it been better equipped to perform its important public services or to play its full part in the advancement of the transportation future of Canada.
The irrigation project in Alberta has developed 643,526 acres by means of 3,969 miles of irrigation ditches, at a construction cost of $15,186,348 and operation costs of $1,761,268. Success of the irrigation block will, it is hoped, lead to the expansion of irrigation projects under Federal or Provincial Governments, thereby diminishing the danger of crop failure in irrigated districts.
The value of any enterprise depends on the ability to progress and on the maintenance of high credit necessary to the development. Railways must be enabled to keep pace with the progress of the country, by expanding the facilities, constructing necessary new lines and supplying the public with adequate efficiency and comfort in service. The railway net earnings of the Company for 1919 represent a return of only four per cent. on the actual cash invested in the railway itself. A nominal surplus of $844,249 has been placed in reserve to meet the special taxation imposed by the Dominion Government. The fixed charges and interest on the preference stock of the Company are low and the dividend of seven per cent payable on the common stock from the railway earnings is moderate. Any corporation conducting so extensive an enterprise must have reasonable surpluses. Yet the surplus after the deduction of the fixed charges and the dividends amounted to less than half of one per cent. of the gross earnings. Revenues, therefore, during the past two years were obviously inadequate. Rates should be established which represent a fair return for the service rendered. Profits earned by a Company's efficiency and economy and by the character and extent of the equipment and facilities, should not be confiscated, nor should the revenues accruing to one Company from service well performed be taken to supplement the revenue of a competitor less successful. The theory that the rates be not increased, but that the deficits be met from general revenues of the Company is economically unsound and discriminating against the public in favor of those using railway facilities. The Company's equipment Trust Issue of $12,000,000 was secured at highly favorable interest rates. The amendment to the Company's Charter permitting the increase of the number of the Directors from fifteen to eighteen is purely empowering.
Immigration to Canada is anticipated on a large scale, and while retrenchment and financial conservatism are wise, the Company's Directors have the same implicit faith in the future growth and the prosperity of the country as before, and the same confidence in the Company's ability to play an important part in its development and prosperity.
Four retiring directors, Sir John C. Eaton, Mr. Grant Hall, Sir Vincent Meredith, Bart., and Sir Augustus M. Nanton, were re-elected.
At a meeting of the Board subsequently held Lord Shaughnessy was elected chairman, E. W. Beatty, president, Grant Hall, vice-president, and executive committee appointed is as follows: Richard B. Angus, E. W. Beatty, Grant Hall, Sir Herbert S. Holt, Sir Edmund B. Osler, Lord Shaughnessy.

PRESENTATION OF MEDALS

At Patriotic Gathering of the Schools

The formal celebration of Victoria Day in connection with the Red Deer Public and High Schools came off in the Armouries on Wednesday afternoon under the auspices of Sir Christopher Cradock Chapter of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire. There was a large turnout of scholars, enchers, and parents, or rather, of the women folk, for the men were rather conspicuous by their absence. The music, speaking, judge's report, and essay, made up an excellent and well balanced programme.

Mayor Lord presided in felicitous style and with apt comments, supported by Mrs. Greig, regent; Mrs. Gamble, vice-regent; and Mrs. Thorne, Mrs. Howiett, Mrs. Pamley, officers of the Chapter. Rev. A. C. Collier gave the judge's report and read the first prize essay. Mrs. Greig presented the awards as follows:—

The Medal Winners

Desmond St. Clair George Memorial Medal—Alice Cade, Grade 9. Next in standing—Juanita Gaetz.

I.O.D.E. Medal—Elsie English, Grade 8. Next in standing—Charlie Michener.

The Special Singing

The music was a most special and attractive feature of the afternoon programme. Miss Marion Michener had to respond to a well merited encore in her piano solo. The chorus singing of the massed schools in "O Canada" and "God Save the King" was the finest rendering of these patriotic songs ever heard in Red Deer, the time being very even, the enunciation sweet, clear, strong, and not overstrained, combining to produce splendid effects. In the Lullaby two-part song by a group of Grade 9 girls, the melody was beautifully carried, while the time, attack, and enunciation left nothing to be desired. This song, as well as O Canada, was unaccompanied, and the pitch of the last note was as true as that of the first. The singing was most creditable to the pupils and to Mrs. Dawe.

Patriotic Speeches

Mr. Payne and Mr. Snell gave patriotic ten-minute addresses. Mr. Payne spoke of the good Queen Victoria whose reign—1837-1901—united the British Empire as at no previous period in its history. Kindly, considerate, sacrificing herself for her people, ruling with great wisdom, handing down to her successors on the throne outstanding qualities, she was a notable figure in the world's history. They might not all agree about royalty but, from his viewpoint, the throne was the keystone of the British Empire in its detachment from party and religious strife, in its permanency and character. To the character of the later British sovereigns they largely owed the democracy and education they enjoyed today. From the reverence they bore Queen Victoria, Mr. Payne drew a fitting lesson of respect and obedience to teachers. Mr. Snell dwelt on the promise of Canada, the finest domain in the British Empire; on the debt they owed to the fathers who had laid the foundations of their great country: on the advantages of union among the British countries, as shown in the great war, whose sacrifice protected them in safety. He urged the boys and girls to make Red Deer a good town. Making Red Deer a good town would help to make the province better, making the Province better would help the Dominion, and then the Empire. They had greater opportunities before them today than at any stage in the world's history. Mr. Snell concluded with a fine tribute to the influence of women in forming the moral character of the nation.

Judging the Essays

Rev. A. C. Collier, who judged the twenty essays from Grades 9 and 10, entered in the competition for the medals, gave a most helpful review of the main essays, and the points to be sought in essay writing. The pupils were not limited in choice of any patriotic subject. Mr. Collier could not find a single weak writing in the whole twenty: all were good and of a high order of merit: two in each Grade were exceptionally good. The two main principles, he considered, were style and material. Under style came the principal factor, viz., organization of ideas, how the essay was worked up, how the structure was built from the framework. Correct grammatical construction, correct spelling, writing, neatness, came under this head. The second principle was the material—its fitness, its wealth, its comprehensiveness. It was on this latter ground that he gave the winner the choice in the first two Grade 9 essays. Mr. Collier considered the essays showed that the boys and girls had been well grounded in English composition.

After a programme of an hour and a quarter, the gathering broke up at 4 o'clock with God Save the King.

MEMORIAL COMMITTEE

The Memorial and Community Hall Committee met at the City Hall Tuesday evening, with Mr. T. A. Gaetz in the chair. Owing to the absence of Mr. Patchett through indisposition, Mr. W. F. Harris acted as secretary. The following were present, as representative of the different organizations:—

Rev. W. G. Brown—Original committee.
Mrs. Pamley—I.O.D.E.
Mrs. McPherson—W.C.T.U.
Mrs. McCreight—G.W.V.A., L.A.
Mrs. McBride—Eastern Star
Mrs. Broughton—St. Luke's W.A.
Mrs. Bannerman—Knox Church L.A.
Mrs. Gamble—Women's Institute
Mrs. DeLong—Methodist L.A.
Mrs. Carroll and Miss McDonnell—Catholic Ladies' Aid.
Miss Ebert—Alexandra Club
Miss Ramsay—Y.W.C.T.U.
Mrs. Galbraith—L.C.W.
W. J. Botterill—G.W.V.A.
D. W. McKinnon, L. M. Gaetz, and R. A. Van Slyke—U.F.A.
Dr. McEwan—Red Deer No. 12, A.F. & A.M.
Dr. George—Alberta Natural History Society
C. C. Gamble—Horticultural Society
P. E. Kent—S.O.E.

The chairman opened the meeting with a brief explanatory speech. He said the original committee had hopes of being able to enlist the sympathies and help of the U.F.A. locals of the constituency. This was endorsed by Messrs. McKinnon, L. M. Gaets and VanSlyke. They had no official mandate from the U.F.A., but expressed the opinion personally that the farmers would support the movement for a community hall, and that the Red Deer citizens might safely bank on them.

At the suggestion of the chairman, the following committees were elected:

Publicity and Advertising—Messrs. F. Turnbull, C. C. Gamble, R. B. Welliver, J. A. Carswell; and Miss Ebert.

Finance—Messrs. W. J. Stephenson, F. C. Whitehouse and A. H. Moyes.

Public Meeting, Propaganda—Dr. McEwan, Rev. W. G. Brown, His Worship Mayor Lord, Mr. L. M. Gaetz, Mesdames Galbraith, McPherson and Carroll.

Committee to select a permanent salaried Secretary — Messrs. T. A. Gaetz and R. B. Welliver.

Treasurer—Mr. C. C. Gamble.

Arrangements were made for advising the U.F.A. locals of what was contemplated, and putting the whole matter up to their delegates at the U.F.A. convention on June 29.

Mr. T. A. Gaetz and Rev. Brown were appointed a committee to draft a telegram and send it to Dr. Clark and the Minister of Militia, in the name of all the organizations represented on the committee, requesting that the G. W. V. A. be relieved of the demand that they carry the burden of fire insurance on the Armouries to the amount of $57,000.

The original committee of four will interview the agents of the Alexandra hotel property with a view to getting a provisional option on the building.

The meeting adjourned at 10:15.

PRIZE ESSAY ON LORD KITCHENER

The following is the prize essay carrying off the silver medal given by the I.O.D.E., and written by Miss Elsie English, of Grade VIII in the Public School. The essay was read at the Armouries on Wednesday last. Charles Michener received special mention for his paper, which was also very good.

LORD KITCHENER

Horatio Herbert Kitchener was born in County Keryn, Ireland, in 1850. When he graduated he received a commission in the Royal Engineers, but when he was 21 years old he attached himself to the French army in the Franco-Prussian war. He had been in the service only a short time when he contracted pneumonia during a balloon flight, and had such a serious illness that he had to give up further services for France.

In 1874, young Kitchener was sent to Cyprus to organize a system of courts, a work in which he had displayed administrative ability and tact.

Hearing that the Egyptian army was being organized by Sir Evelyn Wood, young Kitchener saw his opportunity and lost no time in offering his services. The military authorities recognized such a native character, and put him in the Intelligence Department. In 1886, he became governor of the Red Sea Territories, and set in motion a number of raids on the notorious Osman Digna, the Dervish leader.

By this time, much was heard in England of Kitchener's work in Egypt and when he returned home for a short rest he was received with honor by Queen Victoria. On going back to Egypt he was appointed commander of the Egyptian army.

The fight at Omdurman, Sept. 2, 1898, was the greatest battle of Kitchener's time in Egypt. Osman Digna faced him with 50,000 Mahdists, while he had but 20,000 men. When the battle was ended, 11,000 of the Mahdists had been killed, 16,000 wounded, and 4,000 taken prisoners, while the English and Egyptian loss altogether was under 500 men. For his triumphs in the Sudan he was raised to the peerage as Baron Kitchener of Khartoum, and received thanks from Parliament and a grant of $150,000. Shortly afterwards, he was promoted lieutenant-general and then chief of staff to Lord Roberts in the South African war, and when Lord Roberts returned to England in November, 1900, succeeded him as Commander-in-chief in that field. Kitchener stopped the Boer raid and virtually ended the war in South Africa by constructing a 3,500 mile chain of blockhouses.

Immediately after the peace, General Kitchener went to India as Commander-in-chief of the British forces there, and this position he held for seven years.

In 1909, on leaving India he was promoted Field Marshal and appointed Commander-in-chief, and High Commissioner in the Mediterranean, and later on took a tour of inspection of the forces of the entire Empire. He then returned to Egypt and led in the economical development of the country, building new roads and irrigation projects, on a larger scale. In 1910, he paid a brief visit to the United States during a trip around the world. At that time it came out in the New York papers that the great Kitchener was a "woman hater." He took occasion to deny this, and said the only reason he had never married was because he believed a man could not be a good soldier and a good husband at the same time.

Lord Kitchener happened to be in England on one of the comparatively rare visits that he had paid to London during his long career abroad, when the European war broke out. He had just returned from service in Egypt as British agent, and had accepted an earldom from King George and was about to be made viceroy of India.

On being appointed secretary for the war, Kitchener immediately took full charge at the war office, where he worked day and night to overcome the handicap which the central powers had over England in matter of fighting strength.

After dispatching a hundred thousand regulars to France and Belgium to help check the onrushing Germans, the war secretary began recruiting, and organizing his army of millions. Within a year Premier Asquith officially announced in parliament that about 3,000,000 men had enlisted in the United Kingdom alone, and almost another million in the overseas dominions.

In June, 1916, Kitchener was on his way to Russia to attend a conference. He boarded the British armored cruiser Hampshire, 10,850 tons, with his staff, shortly after nightfall to the west of the Orkney Islands. During a windy gale the boat was sunk either by a mine or a torpedo.

When the news of Earl Kitchener's death was confirmed on June 7, 1916, the British army went into official mourning.

A memorial service for the dead Field Marshal was held in St. Paul's Cathedral.

SYLVAN LAKE

The large dining hall of the Alexander hotel was the scene of a very enjoyable event on Friday night, the 14th inst., when a concert was given by the school children followed by a box social and dance, for the purpose of raising funds for equipping the school playroom and recreation grounds. The programme on the part of the school children consisted of recitations, songs, speeches and dialogues, which were very much enjoyed and which displayed a considerable variety of splendid talent among the boys and girls of the school. Very much credit is due to the popular and energetic teacher, Mr. E. K. Wright, for the excellent manner in which the school children were prepared to perform their different parts of the programme. Mr. Josh Thompson and his daughter, Miss Mary Thompson, contributed greatly to the evening's entertainment. Mr. Thompson's manipulation of the bones and also step dancing being specially enjoyed by the children, young and old. At the conclusion of the programme, the baskets and boxes provided by the ladies and filled with good things to eat were sold by auction in a most satisfactory manner by Mr. A. Rogers, of Red Deer, and a much larger sum than was anticipated was realized. An abundant supply of good coffee was passed around, and everybody seemed to relish that part of the evening's programme. The hall was then cleared for dancing which continued until the small hours of the morning. Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Learned, Mrs. Austin, and Mr. Umarie presided over the music which was much enjoyed.

All the citizens of the Lake are getting busy now preparing to make the coming season the most successful in the history of this popular summer resort. Preparations are being made for more accommodation for visitors than in previous years. O. B. Wilkinson has a large two-storey house nearly completed. A. S. B. James will build some houses shortly. The Fleming Drug Co. have moved into their new and up-to-date drug store. Mr. Hazelwood, proprietor of the Sylvan Lake hotel, will in a short time increase the size of the hall and put in a new floor so as to increase its convenience both for dancing and show purposes.

Mr. Nels Johnson has installed a gasolene tank in front of his garage and will, he says, immediately put in a cement floor and have an up-to-date garage.

Mr. F. D. McCrimmon is getting a car load of new boats and is making every arrangement to enable summer visitors to have a good and enjoyable time at the Lake this year. The boat house will be enlarged and ice cream parlors established in connection with it.

Mr. Alexander Loiselle is repairing sidewalks and roads in the village this week.

The Alexander hotel will be open for accommodation again this season.

M. D. OF LORNE

A meeting of M.D. of Lorne Council was held Saturday, May 15,in the Sunset schoolhouse, with all members of the Council present except H. Tuison.

Correspondence was read from the Department of Municipal Affairs re levy of Wild Lands Tax, and Supplementary Revenue taxes. Also from M. D. of Crown, No. 339, re appointing a delegate from the Council to meet others in Lacombe on June 2 for the purpose of discussing the advisability of establishing a Municipal Hospital in Lacombe. On motion of Palm, the secretary was appointed to represent this Council. J. E. Lundberg, dissenting, held that a hospital at Lacombe would be of no use to the people living west of the Medicine Hills.

The tax rate for the year was set at ten cents per acre, and the Council will this year enforce the cash taxes. Any work done on the road will be paid for in cash, but those working on the road will not receive any pay before their taxes are paid. The wages will remain the same as last year: that is, 75¢ for man and team, 45¢ for single man, 30¢ for team, and 50¢ for foreman, per hour.

The M.D. had hoped to put the tax rate on the valuation basis this year, but owing to the Equalization Board not being ready, this could not be done this year. As a consequence, the revenue will be pretty small, especially when a person stops to consider the many washouts and new culverts needed, on account of the flood this spring.

J. E. Lundberg was appointed to enforce the sanitary laws in the Village of Eckville, with power to act.

The next meeting of the Council will be held at Eckville on Saturday, June 29.

MOTORIZING THE FARM

THE horse has been declared by Thomas Edison to be the most inefficient machine in the world. In return for the amount of food and care needed, the horse returns less in work than any other machine.

The average team of farm horses costs $400, a good set of double harness $100, a wagon without box $115, making a total of $615.

A Ford Truck costs $750 at Ford, Ont. A Fordson Tractor costs $850 at Dearborn Mich.

The initial cost of motorizing a farm is slightly greater than the cost of a horse outfit, but the lower cost of operation and upkeep of the tractor and truck and the greater amount of work done easily put the horse out of the running.

Government experiments have proved that the cost of feeding a horse is 8.7 cents per working hour.

A team of horses cannot plow more than two acres in a ten-hour day. At 8.7 cents per hour or 17.4 cents per hour for a team, the cost would be $1.74, or 87 cents an acre. A Fordson Tractor plows on an average of seven acres a day. The cost per acre averages not more than 75 cents per acre for gas and oil. The Fordson does three and a half times as much plowing in a day at a smaller cost per acre.

Suppose you are hauling produce to market or bringing out supplies. If the town is twenty miles away it will take you a whole day to make the return trip with horses. If you have a heavy load and the weather is hot it will take you two days. If it took you twelve hours, the cost at 17.4 cents an hour for your team would be $2.09. The average cost of running a Ford Truck, for gas and oil, is 4½ cents a mile or $1.80 for the forty miles. But with the Ford Truck you can make the return trip in four hours. The truck enables you to make three times as many trips and at a lower cost per trip.

But this is not all. If you motorize your farm you can get up an hour later in the morning. You have no horses to feed, groom or harness. You start work after breakfast.

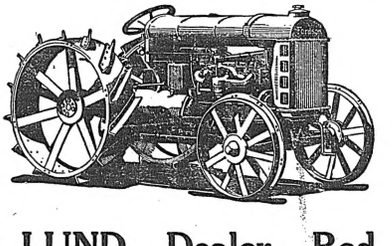

When dinner is ready you stop at the end of the field, drive your tractor direct to the house, eat your dinner, and rest till it is time to go to work again.

In the afternoon your motor works just as well though the sun is hot and the flies are bad.

And at night when work is over you are through for the day,—no horses to rub down, feed or water.

You are always free to leave your farm for picnic or vacation—no worry about horses left behind to be cared for.

Every way you look at it the motor has the advantage over the horse. It means shorter hours on the farm, more work done in less time and at less cost.
